

An iPad is Right For You...

- If you find a laptop too heavy/bulky
- If you find handheld devices to have too small a screen.
- If you like to explore the latest options in gaming.
- If a laptop is too heavy and hot to sit on your lap.
- If you want your books to be more mobile.
- If you like the touch interface.
- If you don't plan to do a lot of typing.
- If you want to share/view photos, videos, & record voice memos.
- If you want to view maps
- If you like to get your news from Apps with a clean interface instead of a web page.

An iPad is Not For You...

- If you hate glossy screens
- If you want flash on your mobile device to play games like Farmville.
- If you want a camera

- If you want to share the device with multiple users.
- If you want to use multiple fonts and formatting in your email.
- If you need to use Java apps for things like Elluminate for online classroom sessions.
- If you want to copy/paste content out of purchased ebooks.
- If you want to edit photos on the device.
- If you want to output HD video to a TV.
- If you want to browse the web with a different browser.
- If you would like to share purchased e-books with others.
- If you want to upload an image on your iPad to a blog like Blogger.com
- If you want to create/edit Google Docs.
- If you want to search and watch videos from sites like Blinkx or Blip.tv
- If you want to download files off the web.
- If you want to send attachments in email.
