

To run Disk Utilities here are the instructions.

1. Open your hard drive.
2. Click on your Applications (the very first item).
3. Go down to Utilities.

4. Then click on Disk Utilities in the next row over.

5. When you do that you will see the program come up. Click on the icon that you see above.

When the program comes up, you will want to chose your hard drive to run the program.

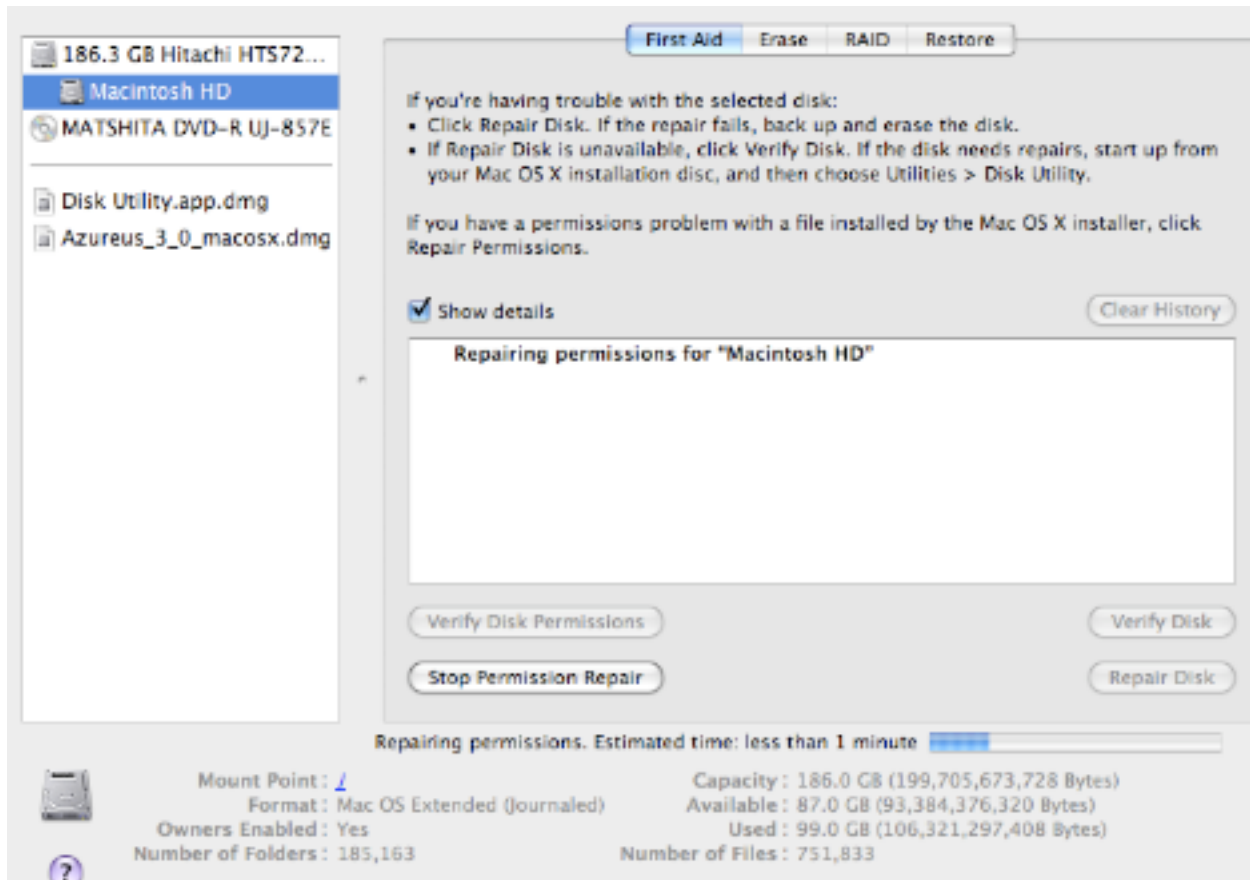

Should you want to run it on an external drive than chose the external drive to also check it out.

You should do this on your hard drive often.

6. After your hard drive has been selected you will choose Repair Disk Permissions

Below is what it will look like when the program is running. The blue line below will go all the way across and then finish.

That's all there is to running Disk Utilities.
